GERMANS AGAIN STRIKE TOWARD PARIS AMERICAN FORCES BLOCKING THE WAY

FRANCO-AMERICANS HOLD STAUNCHLY AGAINST VON GALLWITZ'S VETERANS

DESPERATE FIGHTING ALONG FIFTY MILE FRONT MARKS OPENING OF FOURTH GERMAN EFFORT TO TAKE PARIS

LONG RANGE GUN AT WORK AGAIN

Franco-American forces are holding magnificently against the new German offensive linking up the Champaigne with the 200 mile Flanders-to-the-Marne battle front. American forces have launched a series of heavy counter attacks against the enemy where he crossed the Marne at several points in his heavy smash this morning. United Press dispatches from Fred S. Ferguson reporting that development said the outcome of the fighting was not certain when his cable was filed. American forces are disposed on each side of Chateau-Thierry and are blocking Germn efforts to reach Chalons, which is apparently the first objective of the fighting.

Cabling from Paris, John D. DeGandy, United Press staff correspondent, said this afternoon that the French army in the Champaigne is holding the Germans in their outpost zones except in a few places where the enemy impetus carried the troops forward along the Marne. The part of the river crossed between Chalons and Darmans is narrow. General von Gallwitz who has not been in command in this German drive on the western front, is in command with heavy fresh forces. His immediate objective is Chalons, although Paris is the immediate objective and the Germans also hope to take Rheims.

German troops attacked in great force early today over a 50-mile front extending from Chateau-Thierry eastward into the Champaigne region. Indications were that the enemy was continuing the drive toward Paris with a desperate effort to capture Rheims and eliminate that city as an obstruction to the advance. Authoritative United Press dispatches from London at noon said that the enemy had crossed the Marne at some points and penetrated the French lines 5,000 yards, nearly 3 miles.

The French official communique issued early in the day said that the French were "sustaining their positions energetically". American mettle is being tested in the new offensive. At two points Americans are under attack on a battle front of 10 miles. The Americans are holding the line west of Chateau-Thierry and eastward at Mar Jaulgonne; other American troops are in the line near Butte de Mesnil.

In attacking on this front the Germans have linked the Chateau-Thierry region with the Flanders, Picardy, Oise and Marne fronts over a battle line of 250 miles from Ypres in Flanders to Main de Massiges (the lowermost point in today's attack) in Champaigne.

The first news of the resumption of the German offensive was received in this country shortly before eight o'clock this morning in dispatches from Fred S. Ferguson, United Press staff correspondent on the Marne front. He described a heavy bombardment from Vaux, 2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry to Mar Jaulgonne, fololwed by an infantry attack at 6 a. m. At the hour of cabling, 8.10 a. m., the situation was well in hand, he said.

The French official communique at noon (Paris time) announced that the Germans had launched the drive over a front of 80 kilometers at Chateau-Thierry eastward to Main de Massiges, following a violent artillery preparation.

That the drive on this front was not unexpected is revealed by the fact that Ed. L. Keen, European manager of the United Press, cabled on June 28 that he had learned from authoritative sources that "the enemy will soon launch its final and supreme effort. It is felt here there will be a partial offensive on the north portion of the British front at Flanders. The location of the main thrust is not certain but it particularly will be between Rheims and the Ardennes region (near Verdun) with simultaneous subsidiary attacks along the whole front." The bombardment Leaux, 25 miles west and south of Chateau-Thierry and less than that distance from Paris, lends weight to the theory that the German drive is intended at least in part as a resumption of the advance on Paris.

In the path of the drive is the important cities of Epernay, 5 miles south of Rheims, and Chalons Sur Manre, 24 miles south of Rheims.

Simultaneously with the drive on the 50-mile front between Chateau-Thierry and Main de Massiges the Germans attempted a formidable attack on the Ourcq front toward La Fere-Milon, 5 miles northwest of Chateau-Thierry. They encountered a crushing barrage and were unable to advance.

AMERICANS IN THICK OF FRAY

By Fred S. Ferguson

With The Americans On The Marne, July 15, 8.10 a. m.—The Germans attacked the American positions in the region of Vaux, 2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry at 6 o'clock this morning following a heavy bombardment with gas and high explosives. The American artillery responded with a barrage and at the hour of cabling the situation is well in hand. Simultaneously the enemy staged a heavy bombardment in the region of Jalgonne (7 miles east of Chateau-Thierry on the northern bank of the Marne.) While fighting near Chateau-Thierry was under way the Germans began a bombardment of Leaux (25 miles east and south of Chateau-Thierry) and the bombardment of Paris by long range guns. The weather is clear and is ideal for fighting.

W.S.S. SOLICITORS DEVISE NEW METHOD

Of greatest interest now among the several sub committees is the committee on soliciting in the industrial plants, for its work is now well under way. In all the plants meetings are either being held or have been hld. The Clearfield Machine Shop has come forth with a fine subscription of thirty-five hundred dolalrs. The Clearfield Sewer Pipe Company has also had its meeting, which is reported very successful. Exactly how successful is not know yeta, because in a few instances pledges have not definitely been made; but the percentage among those who have subscribed is all that it should be.

Likewise, the progressing in all parts o fthe county. Some few districts have splendidly surpassed their quota. Others, like ours, are toiling away to come up to expectation. Bigler with a quota of ninety-seven hundred dollars, has subscribed ten thousand seventy-five. Cooper precinct of Cooper township has over-subscribed almost fifty-three hundred dollars. Jackson precinct of Bradford township has a quota of nineteen thousand six hundred dollars. Its subscriptions up to date amount to four hundred forty-four thousand, five hundred dollars! To get down to our own class of districts that are having a hard pull to reach their quota. Grampian has subscribed thus far over twenty-six hundred dollars; Mahaffey, over twenty-eight hundred, and Ramey, over forty-two hunderd.

We have just a week more until the designated end of the campaign.

40,000 AUSTRIANS DESERT BATTLE LINE

London, July 15—Forty thousand deserters from the Austrian army fled following the Piave disaster, the Zurich correspondent in the Daily News has learned from neutral sources, he declared in a dispatch today. Some of these are armed and hiding in the mountaings. Three thousand deserters were arrested in Budapest.

MORE AIR FATALITIES

Buffalo, July 15—Aviator S. S. Hale and Student Homer S. Sharp fell 100 feet in an aeroplane at Curtis Field today. Hale was dead when he was picked up and Sharp was removed to the Erie County hospital suffering from a fractured skull. It is believed the motor stopped when the machine was in the air.

BRITISH TROOPS MAKE GAIN

London, July 15.—British troops advanced on a front of more than a mile east of Ditch Bus Lake in Flanders, taking 296 prisoners. Field Marshal Haig reported today. Local operations in Ditch Bus Lake late yesterday morning were completely successful, the statement said.

GOOD NEWS FROM ALBANIA

Rome, July 15.—Further advance by the Italians and French in southern Albania has seriously compromized the enemy. The Austrians continue to fall back in disorder, burning depots and villages which they are forced to abandon.

BIG GATHERING AT FAUNCE YESTERDAY

Yesterday was a red letter day for the mining town of Faunce, the occasion being the raising of a huge United States flag to the breeze.

Right after dinner autos began to bring the people from the surrounding country and by the time the exercises were about to start there was fully a thousand people gathered to do honor to the flag.

The meeting was presided over by "Daddy" Boyles, and he, in his inimitable Scotch way, outlined the purpose of the gathering and introduced as the first speaker, John M. Bain of this city.

Mr. Bain gave some first hand information as to the situation in which this country now finds herself after getting right down to work on the one idea which should be upperost in the mind of every American today—that of winning the war.

Following Mr. Bain, Mr. Pohe, of the Penn Public Service Co., gave an inspiring talk asking everyone present to buy all the War Savings Stamps they could possibly purchase, reminding them that it was their patrotic duty to exert every effort at this time to furnish the government with the sinews of war.

Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, of this city, was then introduced and in one of his usual peppery talks told the people just what they should be doing to help our boys over there get things done and get home again that much quicker.

Much of the success of the occasion was due to the efforts of two of Faunce's patriotic citizens, Arch Moyer and Clark Bloom. They had all arrangements made to such a nicety that the whole program went along without a hitch.

The Cresent Band of Curwensville and the Liberty Chorns of this city were on hand and discoursed both popular and patriotic selections during the afternoon and had conspicuous places on the program.

TODAY'S CASUALTY LIST

By United Press

Washington, July 15—Sixty casualties listed by General Pershing today included killed in action 14; died of wounds 7; died of disease 7; severely wounded 28; missing in action 3.

Chief Mechanic Roy W. Sherman, of Templeton was severely wounded.

Sergeant Lyman Dunlap of DuBois, was among the "severely wounded" in General Pershing's casualty list given out yesterday.

STOCKS SLUMPED

By United Press

New York, July 15—Responding to the news of the new Gerhan drive the stock market slumped shortly after the opening. United States Steel was 2 points below aSturday's close. Steel sold for 102¼ soon after the market opened. Baldwin sold at 85⅝. American Summatra rallied slightly after a loss of 4½ at 119.

Prices receeded somewhat at noon. United States steel went to 102¼.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS SOON FOR SIBERIA

Washington, D. C., July 15—Many strange sights will greet the eyes of the American soldier boys who are likely ere long to be journeying across the enormous extent of Siberia later to get shoulder to shoulder with the British and Japanese allies to break the strangle-hold the Hun has secured on the Russian bear.

Siberia! What a wealth of childhood emories come with the very mention of the name. Even today comparatively little is known to the world at large of this marvelous country so long under the heels of the Russian czars, of the untold natural wealth of the country, its boundless resources and illimitable possibilities.

Travelers have usually confined themselves to the exile system and the methods of crossing the country when in Siberia, with a chapter of generalities on the industries of the country. That is virtually the extent of the inforamtion available.

Siberia is a country of immense area traversed throughout its enormous breadth by great railway which connects its territory with the markets of Europe on one hand and those of the Pacific coasts on the other. The prevalent idea that Siberia is a barren land sovered largely with snow and ice is netirely erroneous. This applies only to the northern portion which is but sparsely inhabited. A great extent of the country is similar to the most productive areas of the United States in soil, climate and other conditions. In the variety and extent of its mineral wealth Siberia stands to the forefront of all the countries of the world. It is well known that in many localities there are virgin mining fields quite as remarkabe as any which have stimulated the great "rushes" in the United States or in the Klondyke.

Vladivostok "Sovereign of the East" wil be made the great rendezvous for the allied troops and their point of departure for the eastern front. Vladivostok is pre-eminently a fortress. It is also the chief town of East Siberia, and until the last few years was the most important seat of Russian influence in the Far East.

Vadicostok is so much more formidable than Port Arthur, so much more magnificent than Dalny, so much larger than Khaberovsk, and it possesses such an admirable harbor that it is not surprising that the Russians selected it to be the hub of the Greater Russia in the East.

The town is situated on the slopes of high ridge, forming a tapering peninsula, which proects into an irregular land-locked bay. On the highands surrounding the harbor the Russians constructed continuous chains of earthworks and defensive positions. Dominating the entrance to the bay is Russia Isand, where there is an important port.

The main streets of the town are well paved with granite and officiently drained. The sidewalks are raised and asphalted, the houses are imposing and the lofty structures of brick or stone. Such architectural beauty as Vladivostok possesses—and it is much compared with the untidy wastes of iSberian towns—is due to the cheapness of Chinese workmanship. Chinese abor is responsible for the paved streets, for the construction of the navay quays, the fortresses and the dockyards.

There is a very cosmopolitan population in Vladivostok, made up of adventurers from all climes—English, Freinch, German, American business men from the West and a sprinkling of pretty women from San Francisco. Upon the whoe, says a recent visitor, it is a motley, uninviting community from which the principles of morality are strangely wanting.

From Vladivoctok the distance to Harbin is 500 miles. At Harbin a junction is made with the main line of the Transiberian railway. From this point through trains may be run to oscow and Petrograd a total distance of more than 5 000 miles

The Fulton-Dempsey bout appears to have the celebrated Mr. Finnegan backed off the boards.

The next notable golfing event on the Pacific coast will be the summer tournament to be staked at Cororado early in August.

THE SONG OF LIBERTY

We want our nation singing
To the boys across the sea;
We will all fight Freedom's battle
As we sing for Liberty.

We want each father singing
A message to his son,
To sing him into battle
And to victory over the Hun.

We want each mother singing
To the boys that she has borne—
To sing a blessing, bravely given,
Though her mother hearth be torn.

We want each wife and sweetheart,
Through the lonely, waiting days,
To sing her soldier lover
Songs of love and praise.

We want our children singing,
with voices high and clear,
To sing for future Liberty
So all the world may hear.

We'll all sing the Songs of Battle,
Our songs must never cease,
Till we sing the Song of Victory
Then we'll sing the song of Peace.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. William Emory, of Philipsburg, called on relative here yesterday.

Mrs. Mary West and little daughter of Pittsburgh, are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Maxwell, on Thompson street.

Herbert Shearer, employed at the Bickford brick plant, was confined to his home on Meadow street this week by illness.

Messrs. Vern Wall and Ralph Hess both connected with the Crescent Brick Co. of this place, have been transacting business in Pittsburgh the past few days.

John Wilt, one of the day foremen at the Bickford brick plant, accompanied by his family, left on Saturday for Patton and other points in Cambria county, where he will spend the next ten days visiting with relatives and boyhood friends.

The Crescent cornet band went to Faunce yesterday to furnish music for a flag raising. There was a large crowd present and some very patriotic addresses were made on the occasion. Quite a number motored from Curwensvilel and took an active part in enlivening the proceedings.

A young man naced Price, who resides near Bloomington, had one of his hands severely crushed one day the latter part of last week by a fall of clay, the accident happening while he was at work in hard clay mine. About a year ago this same young man had three fingers on the same hand taken off by an accident.

An Italian eploye at the Lumber City brick palnt had a hand severely lacerated Saturday by having it caught in making a car coupling. One finger was almost severed from the hand, but the attending physician did not think that amputation was necessary and fixed the finger up in such a skillful manner that he is of the opinion that the flesh will grow and the hand be as well as ever within the next month, provided no other complications set in.

Ed. Young, one of Lumber City's foremost and progressive citizens, was in Curwensville on Saturday and did som shopping. He does not believe much in going away from one' home town to buy stuff, but as he says sometimes necessity demands it, hence his visit to Curwensville Saturday.

Mrs. Morris Kephart and family of Johnstown, Pa., who have been visiting Mrs. Kephart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hipps, on Filbert street for the past two weeks, have returned to their home. They were accompanied by Miss Lou Hipps and Mrs. Walter McKendrick.

Saturday seventeen of the soldier recruits who left district No. 1 some days ago for Camj Lee, returned to their homes in different parts of the district, some being rejected on the grounds of genral disability, while others were sent home to receive medical and dntal treatment. Chas. Abrino was one from here who was rejected as unfit for military duty.

An interesting and enthusiastic base ball game was played on the home grounds Saturday afternoon. The contesting teams being the Crescent ball team and one from the brick works at Lumber iCty. The up-river lads worked hard and manfully to win, but the fates were against them and they went down in defeat by a score of 12 to 8.

It is not generally known that J. R. Bixler, the versatile editor of the Curwensville Herald, was at one time a politician of some note in this county. From McDonald County Review, of September, 1882, we glean this notice made of him at that time: "Bixler (those we love we call short names) is now Secretar y of the Democratic County Committee." It is further said that Mr. Bixler being honest in his convictions stroked the cat's fur the wrong way, and thereby roused the indignation of some of the party leaders to a high pitch, all because he would not allow them to "shove in their oar" and run things.

The irrepresible Joseph Lines, one of the most expert woodsmen that ever handled a peling axe in a Clearfield county woods, who now resides at or near Lumber City, was a town visitor Saturday. He is now engaged in conducting the boarding house at the Lumber City brick works and also acting as one of the night watchmen at the plant. Joe is an old National Guardsman, having served with the writer as a member of old company A, 5th regiment, then comanded by Col. D. H. Hastings, afterwards serving his state as Governor. If any of Joe's friends wish to see a broad smile overspread his countenance, just ask him if he likes goose. It will fetch a story of a hungry soldier boy and a very "tender" goose.

Thomas Humphrey, one of the highly respected and estimable farmers of Pike township, was in town Saturday and informed ye copy man that he celebrated his 78th birthday the day previous. In regards to health he said that he felt better now than when he came home from the army in 1865, he having served in company K, 142d regiment, more familiarly known as the "Old Bucktails". There was no big display at the anniversary, only that some intimate friends gathered at his home, broke bread with the family, and wished him many happy returns of the day.

There is a congestion of barber shops in Curwensville at present. A fw months ago there were five good shops running, each having from one to three men. Now there are only two shops, with two men to the shop. These, while doing all they can and working more hours than they really ought to, are not sufficient to keep the "whiskers" from gaining a foothold on men who like a clean face As it is at present, one has to wait from two to four hours in a shop before he can have his wants attended to, and as "time is money" to a great many who visit a barber shop two or three times a week, it makes it inconvenient.

The funeral of Robert J. Shaffer was held from his late residence yesterday afternoon. A large number of fellow workmen from the brick yard were inattendance, to pay their last tribute to their friend and fellow worker. The services at the cemetery were under the auspices of the local Red Men's Lodge, of which he had been a membre for a numbr of years. Deceased, despite his many peculiarities, had many friends in this place, and who wre more than sorry of his early demise. "Happy" Shaffer, as he was called by nearly everybody here who knew him, will long be remembered by those who knew him best, as genial, compania and fellow worker. It was very seldom that he ever refused to do a favor, and many times he helped a friend out of a hole, much to the detriment of his own advancement and interest.

It has been clearly demonstrated that for several Sundays past Curwensville should have a policeman to serve on that day and from morning until night. True Burgess Traister has had notices poste dall over town warning automobile drivers against driving faster than a certain speed within the limits, but as the car men know that there is no officer on duty on Sunday they do not even give the warning notices a single glance. They also are aware that Chief Clark is on duty only a part of teh day, and consider there is no danger of arrest from morn until after dinner time at least. A few surprise arrests at the hands of a special officer might have a tendency, for a while at least, of putting stop to speeding over our streets Sunday mornings.

OSCEOLA MILLS

William Pooley of Center transacted business in town on Friday evening.

Our Boy Scouts under the leadership of their master, Rev. Gordon A. Williams are making fine progress.

William B. Hamilton of Pittsburgh, who was an Osceola boy visited with friends here and at Houtzdale last week.

Thomas Butler of New York, a former resident of this place visited with friends here last week returning to the city on Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Blowers and family of St. Petersburg, Florida are guests at the home of Eli A. Hall having arrived on Friday evening by automobile. They left home July 5th.

Mrs. Harry Brown and daughters left on Thursday for Harrisburg where they will visit Mrs. Brown's mother.

Charles Fullington has purchased the property of S. W. McLarren on Blanchard street, formerly occupied by Harry Brown and has moved into it.

Miss Miriam Brown of Harrisburg who had been visiting Miss Margaret Lewis at the Presbyterian parsonage and left for Silver Lake N. Y., where she will conduct the Junior League cass at the Epworth League conference to be held at that resort.

The Y. P. B.'s held a package party at the home of Robert Mattern in Frenchtown on Thursday evening and all had a fine time and realized a snug sum for their treasury.

District Deputy Grand Masters Wm. W. Witherson, of Houtzdale, installed the newly elected officers of Umbria Castle, K. G. E. on Friday evening as follows:

Rev. C. N. Smith, past chief
Lorenza Bateman, N. C.
Geoge Carmack, V. C.
David Reese, Sir Herald
W. Carson, Chamberlain
Chas. Warrender, H. P.

YANK HEADWORK IS BACKED BY NERVE

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 21. (By Mail.)—Turning "Heinie's" own machine guns back on him is the newest and favorite stunt in a certain American outfit.

The boys just stumbled onto this sport, and they like it.

Recently in raids the boys brought back some German machine guns, after driving the Germans away from their own strongholds.

"Why not use these German guns on the Hemies?" one thinking doughboy asked his pals.

"You're crazy; we haven't any ammunition that'll fit them."

"Why can't we go over and get some?" replied the thinker.

"Never thought of that," replied the others, "we'reoon."

That night they raided the German trenches and brought back plenty of ammunition and another German machine gun. Next day the guns were playing on the "Heinies".

"They're darned good machine guns," said one chap enthusiastically, "but the Heinies don't know how to use them. We do, though. We're getting a little low on ammunition. Guess we'll have to run over to Germany tonight and make 'em hand out some more."

The Spokane clubs are making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the annual Inland Empire golf championship tournament to be held in their city in September.

(By United Press)

Washington, July 15.—Science has added another delectable fruit to man's larder. It's to be known as the tangelo; and is a cross between the Tangerine orange and the gape-fruit or pomelo.

The . S. bureau of plant industry, which evolved the hybrid fruit, says of it; "It has little acidity, and resembles a tender and good-flavored orange more than either a grape-fruit or a tangerine.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. William Emory, of Philipsburg, called on relatives here yesterday.

Mrs. Mary West and little daughter of Pittsburgh, are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Maxwell, on Thompson street.

Herbert Shearer, employed at the Bickford brick plant, was confined to his home on Meadow street this week by illness.

Messrs. Vern Wall and Ralph Hess both connected with the Crescent Brick Co. of this place, have been transacting business in Pittsburgh the past few days.

John Wilt, one of the day foremen at the Bickford brick plant, accompanied by his family, left on Saturday for Patton and other points in Cambria county, where he will spend the next ten days visiting with relatives and boyhood friends.

The Crescent cornet band went to Faunce yesterday to furnish music for a flag raising. There was a large crowd present and some very patriotic addresses were made on the occasion. Quite a number motored from Curwensvilel and took an active part in enlivening the proceedings.

A young man naced Price, who resides near Bloomington, had one of his hands severely crushed one day the latter part of last week by a fall of clay, the accident happening while he was at work in hard clay mine. About a year ago this same young man had three fingers on the same hand taken off by an accident.

An Italian eploye at the Lumber City brick palnt had a hand severely lacerated Saturday by having it caught in making a car coupling. One finger was almost severed from the hand, but the attending physician did not think that amputation was necessary and fixed the finger up in such a skillful manner that he is of the opinion that the flesh will grow and the hand be as well as ever within the next month, provided no other complications set in.

Ed. Young, one of Lumber City's foremost and progressive citizens, was in Curwensville on Saturday and did som shopping. He does not believe much in going away from one' home town to buy stuff, but as he says sometimes necssity demands it, hence his visit to Curwensville Saturday.

Mrs. Morris Kephart and family of Johnstown, Pa., who have been visiting Mrs. Kephart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hipps, on Filbert street for the past two weeks, have returned to their home. They were accompanied by Miss Lou Hipps and Mrs. Walter McKendrick.

Saturday seventeen of the soldier recruits who left district No. 1 some days ago for Camj Lee, returned to their homes in different parts of the district, some being rejected on the grounds of genral disability, while others were sent home to receive medical and dntal treatment. Chas. Abrino was one from here who was rejected as unfit for military duty.

An interesting and enthusiastic base ball game was played on the home grounds Saturday afternoon. The contesting teams being the Crescent ball team and one from the brick works at Lumber iCty. The up-river lads worked hard and manfully to win, but the fates were against them and they went down in defeat by a score of 12 to 8.

It is not generally known that J. R. Bixler, the versatile editor of the Curwensville Herald, was at one time a politician of some note in this county. From McDonald County Review, of September, 1882, we glean this notice made of him at that time: "Bixler (those we love we call short names) is now Secretar yof the Democratic County Committee." It is further said that Mr. Bixler being honest in his convictions stroked the cat's fur the wrong way, and thereby roused the indignation of some of the party leaders to a high pitch, all because he would not allow them to "shove in their oar" and run things.

The irrepresible Joseph Lines, one of the most expert woodsmen that ever handled a peling axe in a Clearfield county woods, who now resides at or near Lumber City, was a town visitor Saturday. He is now engaged in conducting the boarding house at the Lumber City brick works and also acting as one of the night watchmen at the plant. Joe is an old National Guardsman, having served with the writer as a member of old company A, 5th regiment, then comanded by Col. D. H. Hastings, afterwards serving his state as Governor. If any of Joe's friends wish to see a broad smile overspread his countenance, just ask him if he likes goose. It will fetch a story of a hungry soldier boy and a very "tender" goose.

Thomas Humphrey, one of the highly respected and estimable farmers of Pike township, was in town Saturday and informed ye copy man that he celebrated his 78th birthday the day previous. In regards to health he said that he felt better now than when he came home from the army in 1865, he having served in company K, 142d regiment, more familiarly known as the "Old Bucktails". There was no big display at the anniversary, only that some intimate friends gathered at his home, broke bread with the family, and wished him many happy returns of the day.

There is a congestion of barber shops in Curwensville at present. A fw months ago there were five good shops running, each having from one to three men. Now there are only two shops, with two men to the shop. These, while doing all they can and working more hours than they really ought to, are not sufficient to keep the "whiskers" from gaining a foothold on men who like a clean face. As it is at present, one has to wait from two to four hours in a shop before he can have his wants attended to, and as "time is money" to a great many who visit a barber shop two or three times a week, it makes it inconvenient.

The funeral of Robert J. Shaffer was held from his late residence yesterday afternoon. A large number of fellow workmen from the brick yard were inattendance, to pay their last tribute to their friend and fellow worker. The services at the cemetery were under the auspices of the local Red Men's Lodge, of which he had been a membre for a numbr of years. Deceased, despite his many peculiarities, had many friends in this place, and who wre more than sorry of his early demise. "Happy" Shaffer, as he was called by nearly everybody here who knew him, will long be remembered by those who knew him best, as genial, compania and fellow worker. It was very seldom that he ever refused to do a favor, and many times he helped a friend out of a hole, much to the detrient of his own advancement and interest.

It has been clearly demonstrated that for several Sundays past Curwensville should have a policeman to serve on that day and from morning until night. True Burgess Traister has had notices poste dall over town warning automobile drivers against driving faster than a certain speed within the limits, but as the car men know that there is no officer on duty on Sunday they do not even give the warning notices a single glance. They also are aware that Chief Clark is on duty only a part of tch day, and consider there is no danger of arrest from morn until after dinner time at least. A few surprise arrests at the hands of a special officer might have a tendency, for a while at least, of putting stop to speeding over our streets Sunday mornings.

OSCEOLA MILLS

William Pooley of Center transacted business in town on Friday evening.

Our Boy Scouts under the leadership of their master, Rev. Gordon A. Williams are making fine progress.

William B. Hamilton of Pittsburgh, who was an Osceola boy visited with friends here and at Houtzdale last week.

Thomas Butler of New York, a former resident of this place visited with friends here last week returning to the city on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blowers and family of St. Petersburg, Florida are guests at the home of Eli A. Hall having arrived on Friday evening by automobile. They left home July 5th.

Mrs. Harry Brown and daughters left on Thursday for Harrisburg where they will visit Mrs. Brown's mother.

Charles Fullington has purchased the property of S. W. McLarren on Blanchard street, formerly occupied by Harry Brown and has moved into it.

Miss Miriam Brown of Harrisburg who had been visiting Miss Margaret Lewis at the Presbyterian parsonage and left for Silver Lake N. Y., where she will conduct the Junior League cass at the Epworth League conference to be held at that resort.

The Y. P. B.'s held a package party at the home of Robert Mattern in Frenchtown on Thursday evening and all had a fine time and realized a snug sum for their treasury.

District Deputy Grand Masters Wm. W. Witherson, of Houtzdale, installed the newly elected officers of Umbria Castle, K. G. E. on Friday evening as follows:

Rev. C. N. Smith, past chief
Lorenza Bateman, N. C.
George Carmack, V. C.
David Reese, Sir Herald
W. Carson, Chamberlain
Chas. Warrender, H. P.

YANK HEADWORK IS BACKED BY NERVE

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 21. (By Mail.)—Turning "Heinie's" own machine guns back on him is the newest and favorite stunt in a certain American outfit.

The boys just stumbled onto this sport, and they like it.

Recently in raids the boys brought back some German machine guns, after driving the Germans away from their own strongholds.

"Why not use these German guns on the Heinies?" one thinking doughboy asked his pals.

"You're crazy; we haven't any ammunition that'll fit them."

"Why can't we go over and get some?" replied the thinker.

"Never thought of that," replied the others, "we'reoon."

That night they raided the German trenches and brought back plenty of ammunition and another German machine gun. Next day the guns were playing on the "Heinies".

"They're darned good machine guns," said one chap enthusiastically, "but the Heinies don't know how to use them. We do, though. We're getting a little low on ammunition. Guess we'll have to run over to Germany tonight and make 'em hand out some more."

The Spokane clubs are making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the annual Inland Empire golf championship tournament to be held in their city in September.

SOMETHING GOOD TO EAT.
Scouts Are Taught to Cook—They Know How to Do It Right.

JOYS OF REAL SCOUT LIFE.

Rolling dough on a rock with a glass jar is not fiction nor fancy for scouts, but a reality. Bread-twist on a stick and a hunter's stew will soon be sending up appetizing odors in scout camps all over the country to annoy the appetite. Even should a bit of bark or a grain of sand get into the dough it will only help digest the food. This is clean dirt.

This summer the scouts in the cities expect to take a hike at least every Saturday. They will learn to cook, make the proper kind of fire for every purpose, swim, make a bed of boughs, track birds and "beasts," learn the trees and birds and flowers, and learn the message of the stars and the great out-of doors which is God's first and best temple

Only scouts know the charm of sleeping out among the "zephyrs" all night and getting up in the dew next morning to cook a breakfast before hiking home.

BOY SCOUT SAVES A LEG.

Remembering his "first aid" training as a boy scout James Purdy, thirteen years old, of Darby, Pa., perhaps saved a limb for Carl Wittick, twelve years old, when the latter, coasting at a speed of 25 miles an hour, was struck by another sled, which fractured his leg above the ankle in two places.

When other boys saw the fragments of bone protruding from the injured lad's leg they ran away, but Purdy, making the boy comfortable, gently placed him on a sled and then drew him three quarters of a mile to a doctor's office.

SCOUTS CLEAR UP OLD SIGNS.

The National Highways Protective society says that space along highways given for Liberty loan recruiting and War Savings stamp posters has been taken by other advertising illegal to display in such locations.

In several instances troops of scouts have been utilized in clean-up campaigns for their removal. The Highways society asks that scout officials co-operate in this campaign.

SCOUT TROOP IN SHIP PLANT.

A troop of scouts has been organized among the messengers at the office of the American International Shipbuilding corporation at Camden, N. J.

The company will not employ a boy unless he is a registered scout and wears his uniform while at work Their efficiency and prompt response to all calls have won praise for the boy scout movement.

Audacity is stepfather of success.

Taking all classes of British women war workers, the total is said to be considerably in excess of 5,000,000.

WORK OR FIGHT IS HITTING BASEBALL

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 13.—The work or fight order seems certain to hit major league baseball. And if it does, baseball aparently would be flying in the face of fate if it continued.

That local boards are interpreting Provost Marshal General Crowder's order as applying to professional baseball is demonstrated by the recent abdication of Player Parnham of the Baltimore club of the new International league. He was ordered by his local board to seek a new occupation, and he proceeded to comply at once.

Two men already have left the Brooklyn National league club as direct result of order. Both Zach Wheat and Hi Myers own farms. Myers already has gone to his, while Wheat expects to go within a few days.

Minor leagues probably will be hit first and hardest, for most of their men are younger. But there is no inclination in baseball to sacrifice the little fellows for the bigges ones.

It would be possible to gather enough men under and over ages included in the order to make a showing, but such an aggregation would suply such a joke combination of baseball that the public would become disgusted and stay away. A leaning to this plan is already apparent on the part of several big league magnates. Tommy Leach, for instance, has been taken back into the big league fold, and is playing as a regular with Pittsburg Joe Tinneran has been adopted by the Yankees, as has Hum Hyatt.

In Boston the entire outfield of the Boston Braves, consisting of Kelly, Powell and Rehg, an excellent combination, has enlisted in the navy

DOUGHBOYS LOVE HOT CHOCOLATE SOLDIERS

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 19. (By Mail.)—It gets mighty chilly along toward morning in the trenches, and a fellow needs something hot to cheer him up and keep him awake.

So figured Charles Sinkler of Philadelphia and Harry G Underwood of New York, who run a canteen for the Red Cross in a village two kilometers from the lines, a place the Germans delight in shelling, even though it's but a mass of ruins now.

One of these men couldn't get into the army because he was too old, so he gave up his law practice to come over and help the boys. The other had to do something, and this was the only job he could land, near the front.

Every night these two men make up gallons of hot chocolate, and at midnight they wend their way out dark roads through muddy trenches, and give the doughboys on duty hot chocolate.

One point which they serve is where French lines join with American. Here you see Frenchmen and Americans waiting eagerly for their chocolate, officers with the men, each holding his cup. You see it if you can see in darkness, for this is the very front, the farthest out that any workers go to help the boys.

"Those fellows ought to be decorated," said one appreciative doughboy. "You don't mind coming out here with a gun when you can shoot But you couldn't dodge a shell if you had to, carrying those big buckets of chocolate."

With the arrival of "Pop" Goers at the Randall track, the stage was set for the Grand Circuit to inaugurate its season in regulation style.

Speedway races at Providence and at Sheepshead bay will divide the attention of the automobile enthusiasts in the Eastern States during August.

The brilliant fielding of Roy Chapman has been a considerable factor in the battle of the Cleveland Indians to get over the top this season.

GERMANS AGAIN STRIKE TOWARD PARIS AMERICAN FORCES BLOCKING THE WAY

FRANCO-AMERICANS HOLD STAUNCHLY AGAINST VON GALLWITZ'S VETERANS

DESPERATE FIGHTING ALONG FIFTY MILE FRONT MARKS OPENING OF FOURTH GERMAN EFFORT TO TAKE PARIS

LONG RANGE GUN AT WORK AGAIN

Franco-American forces are holding magnificently against the new German offensive linking up the Champaigne with the 200 mile Flanders-to-the-Marne battle front. American forces have launched a series of heavy counter attacks against the enemy where he crossed the Marne at several points in his heavy smash this morning. United Press dispatches from Fred S. Ferguson reporting that development said the outcome of the fighting was not certain when his cable was filed. American forces are disposed on each side of Chateau-Thierry and are blocking Germn efforts to reach Chalons, which is apparently the first objective of the fighting.

Cabling from Paris, John D. DeGandy, United Press staff correspondent, said this afternoon that the French army in the Champaigne is holding the Germans in their outpost zones except in a few places where the enemy impetus carried the troops forward along the Marne. The part of the river crossed between Chalons and Darmans is narrow. General von Gallwitz who has not been in command in this German drive on the western front, is in command with heavy fresh forces. His immediate objective is Chalons, although Paris is the immediate objective and the Germans also hope to take Rheims.

German troops attacked in great force early today over a 50-mile front extending from Chateau-Thierry eastward into the Champaigne region. Indications were that the enemy was continuing the drive toward Paris with a desperate effort to capture Rheims and eliminate that city as an obstruction to the advance. Authoritative United Press dispatches from London at noon said that the enemy had crossed the Marne at some points and penetrated the French lines 5,000 yards, nearly 3 miles.

The French official communique issued early in the day said that the French were "sustaining their positions energetically". American mettle is being tested in the new offensive. At two points Americans are under attack on a battle front of 10 miles. The Americans are holding the line west of Chateau-Thierry and eastward at Mar Jaulgonne; other American troops are in the line near Butte de Mesnil.

In attacking on this front the Germans have linked the Chateau-Thierry region with the Flanders, Picardy, Oise and Marne fronts over a battle line of 250 miles from Ypres in Flanders to Main de Massiges (the lowermost point in today's attack) in Champaigne.

The first news of the resumption of the German offensive was received in this country shortly before eight o'clock this morning in dispatches from Fred S. Ferguson, United Press staff correspondent on the Marne front. He described a heavy bombardment from Vaux, 2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry to Mar Jaulgonne, fololwed by an infantry attack at 6 a. m. At the hour of cabling, 8.10 a. m., the situation was well in hand, he said.

The French official communique at noon (Paris time) announced that the Germans had launched the drive over a front of 80 kilometers at Chateau-Thierry eastward to Main de Massiges, following a violent artillery preparation.

That the drive on this front was not unexpected is revealed by the fact that Ed. L. Keen, European manager of the United Press, cabled on June 28 that he had learned from authoritative sources that "the enemy will soon launch its final and supreme effort. It is felt here there will be a partial offensive on the north portion of the British front at Flanders. The location of the main thrust is not certain but it particularly will be between Rheims and the Ardennes region (near Verdun) with simultaneous subsidiary attacks along the whole front." The bombardment Leaux, 25 miles west and south of Chateau-Thierry and less than that distance from Paris, lends weight to the theory that the German drive is intended at least in part as a resumption of the advance on Paris.

In the path of the drive is the important cities of Epernay, 5 miles south of Rheims, and Chalons Sur Manre, 24 miles south of Rheims.

Simultaneously with the drive on the 50-mile front between Chateau-Thierry and Main de Massiges the Germans attempted a formidable attack on the Ourcq front toward La Fere-Milon, 5 miles northwest of Chateau-Thierry. They encountered a crushing barrage and were unable to advance.

AMERICANS IN THICK OF FRAY

By Fred S. Ferguson

With The Americans On The Marne, July 15, 8.10 a. m.—The Germans attacked the American positions in the region of Vaux, 2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry at 6 o'clock this morning following a heavy bombardment with gas and high explosives. The American artillery responded with a barrage and at the hour of cabling the situation is well in hand. Simultaneously the enemy staged a heavy bombardment in the region of Jalgonne (7 miles east of Chateau-Thierry on the northern bank of the Marne.) While fighting near Chateau-Thierry was under way the Germans began a bombardment of Leaux (25 miles east and south of Chateau-Thierry) and the bombardment of Paris by long range guns. The weather is clear and is ideal for fighting.

W.S.S. SOLICITORS DEVISE NEW METHOD

Of greatest interest now among the several sub committees is the committee on soliciting in the industrial plants, for its work is now well under way. In all the plants meetings are either being held or have been hld. The Clearfield Machine Shop has come forth with a fine subscription of thirty-five hundred dolalrs. The Clearfield Sewer Pipe Company has also had its meeting, which is reported very successful. Exactly how successful is not know yeta, because in a few instances pledges have not definitely been made; but the percentage among those who have subscribed is all that it should be.

Likewise, the progressing in all parts o fthe county. Some few districts have splendidly surpassed their quota. Others, like ours, are toiling away to come up to expectation. Bigler with a quota of ninety-seven hundred dollars, has subscribed ten thousand seventy-five. Cooper precinct of Cooper township has over-subscribed almost fifty-three hundred dollars. Jackson precinct of Bradford township has a quota of nineteen thousand six hundred dollars. Its subscriptions up to date amount to four hundred forty-four thousand, five hundred dollars! To get down to our own class of districts that are having a hard pull to reach their quota. Grampian has subscribed thus far over twenty-six hundred dollars; Mahaffey, over twenty-eight hundred, and Ramey, over forty-two hunderd.

We have just a week more until the designated end of the campaign.

40,000 AUSTRIANS DESERT BATTLE LINE

London, July 15—Forty thousand deserters from the Austrian army fled following the Piave disaster, the Zurich correspondent in the Daily News has learned from neutral sources, he declared in a dispatch today. Some of these are armed and hiding in the mountaings. Three thousand deserters were arrested in Budapest.

MORE AIR FATALITIES

Buffalo, July 15—Aviator S. S. Hale and Student Homer S. Sharp fell 100 feet in an aeroplane at Curtis Field today. Hale was dead when he was picked up and Sharp was removed to the Erie County hospital suffering from a fractured skull. It is believed the motor stopped when the machine was in the air.

BRITISH TROOPS MAKE GAIN

London, July 15.—British troops advanced on a front of more than a mile east of Ditch Bus Lake in Flanders, taking 296 prisoners, Field Marshal Haig reported today. Local operations in Ditch Bus Lake late yesterday morning were completely successful, the statement said.

GOOD NEWS FROM ALBANIA

Rome, July 15.—Further advance by the Italians and French in southern Albania has seriously compromized the enemy. The Austrians continue to fall back in disorder, burning depots and villages which they are forced to abandon.

BIG GATHERING AT FAUNCE YESTERDAY

Yesterday was a red letter day for the mining town of Faunce, the occasion being the raising of a huge United States flag to the breeze.

Right after dinner autos began to bring the people from the surrounding country and by the time the exercises were about to start there was fully a thousand people gathered to do honor to the flag.

The meeting was presided over by "Daddy" Boyles, and he, in his inimitable Scotch way, outlined the purpose of the gathering and introduced as the first speaker, John M. Bain of this city.

Mr. Bain gave some first hand information as to the situation in which this country now finds herself after getting right down to work on the one idea which should be upperost in the mind of every American today—that of winning the war.

Following Mr. Bain, Mr. Pohe, of the Penn Public Service Co., gave an inspiring talk asking everyone present to buy all the War Savings Stamps they could possibly purchase, reminding them that it was their patrotic duty to exert every effort at this time to furnish the government with the sinews of war.

Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, of this city, was then introduced and in one of his usual peppery talks told the people just what they should be doing to help our boys over there get things done and get home again that much quicker.

Much of the success of the occasion was due to the efforts of two of Faunce's patriotic citizens, Arch Moyer and Clark Bloom. They had all arrangements made to such a nicety that the whole program went along without a hitch.

The Cresent Band of Curwensville and the Liberty Chorns of this city were on hand and discoursed both popular and patriotic selections during the afternoon and had conspicuous places on the program.

TODAY'S CASUALTY LIST

By United Press

Washington, July 15—Sixty casualties listed by General Pershing today included killed in action 14; died of wounds 7; died of disease 7; severely wounded 28; missing in action 3.

Chief Mechanic Roy W. Sherman, of Templeton was severely wounded.

Sergeant Lyman Dunlap of DuBois, was among the "severely wounded" in General Pershing's casualty list given out yesterday.

STOCKS SLUMPED

By United Press

New York, July 15—Responding to the news of the new Gerhan drive the stock market slumped shortly after the opening. United States Steel was 2 points below aSturday's close. Steel sold for 102¼ soon after the market opened. Baldwin sold at 85⅝. American Summatra rallied slightly after a loss of 4½ at 119.

Prices receeded somewhat at noon. United States steel went to 102¼.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS SOON FOR SIBERIA

Washington, D. C., July 15—Many strange sights will greet the eyes of the American soldier boys who are likely ere long to be journeying across the enormous extent of Siberia later to get shoulder to shoulder with the British and Japanese allies to break the strangle-hold the Hun has secured on the Russian bear.

Siberia! What a wealth of childhood emories come with the very mention of the name. Even today comparatively little is known to the world at large of this marvelous country so long under the heels of the Russian czars, of the untold natural wealth of the country, its boundless resources and illimitable possibilities.

Travelers have usually confined themselves to the exile system and the methods of crossing the country when in Siberia, with a chapter of generalities on the industries of the country. That is virtually the extent of the inforamtion available.

Siberia is a country of immense area traversed throughout its enormous breadth by great railway which connects its territory with the markets of Europe on one hand and those of the Pacific coasts on the other. The prevalent idea that Siberia is a barren land sovered largely with snow and ice is netirely erroneous. This applies only to the northern portion which is but sparsely inhabited. A great extent of the country is similar to the most productive areas of the United States in soil, climate and other conditions. In the variety and extent of its mineral wealth Siberia stands to the forefront of all the countries of the world. It is well known that in many localities there are virgin mining fields quite as remarkabe as any which have stimulated the great "rushes" in the United States or in the Klondyke.

Vladivostok "Sovereign of the East" wil be made the great rendezvous for the allied troops and their point of departure for the eastern front. Vladivostok is pre-eminently a fortress. It is also the chief town of East Siberia, and until the last few years was the most important seat of Russian influence in the Far East.

Vadicostok is so much more formidable than Port Arthur, so much more magnificent than Dalny, so much larger than Khaberovsk, and it possesses such an admirable harbor that it is not surprising that the Russians selected it to be the hub of the Greater Russia in the East.

The town is situated on the slopes of high ridge, forming a tapering peninsula, which proects into an irregular land-locked bay. On the highands surrounding the harbor the Russians constructed continuous chains of earthworks and defensive positions. Dominating the entrance to the bay is Russia Isand, where there is an important port.

The main streets of the town are well paved with granite and officiently drained. The sidewalks are raised and asphalted, the houses are imposing and the lofty structures of brick or stone. Such architectural beauty as Vladivostok possesses—and it is much compared with the untidy wastes of iSberian towns—is due to the cheapness of Chinese workmanship. Chinese abor is responsible for the paved streets, for the construction of the navay quays, the fortresses and the dockyards.

There is a very cosmopolitan population in Vladivostok, made up of adventurers from all climes—English, Freinch, German, American business men from the West and a sprinkling of pretty women from San Francisco. Upon the whoe, says a recent visitor, it is a motley, uninviting community from which the principles of morality are strangely wanting.

From Vladivoctok the distance to Harbin is 500 miles. At Harbin a junction is made with the main line of the Transiberian railway. From this point through trains may be run to oscow and Petrograd a total distance of more than 5 000 miles

The Fulton-Dempsey bout appears to have the celebrated Mr. Finnegan backed off the boards.

The next notable golfing event on the Pacific coast will be the summer tournament to be staked at Cororado early in August.

THE SONG OF LIBERTY

We want our nation singing
To the boys across the sea;
We will all fight Freedom's battle
As we sing for Liberty.

We want each father singing
A message to his son,
To sing him into battle
And to victory over the Hun.

We want each mother singing
To the boys that she has borne—
To sing a blessing, bravely given,
Though her mother hearth be torn.

We want each wife and sweetheart,
Through the lonely, waiting days,
To sing her soldier lover
Songs of love and praise.

We want our children singing,
with voices high and clear,
To sing for future Liberty
So all the world may hear.

We'll all sing the Songs of Battle,
Our songs must never cease,
Till we sing the Song of Victory
Then we'll sing the song of Peace.

THE BODY OR THE SOUL

By Marion Couthouy Smith
of The Vigilantes

[illegible] was never a time in the history of Christendom [illegible] of Christ, "What shall it profit a man if he [illegible] world and lose his own soul?" came oftener [illegible] than it does today. For truly this is a time for [illegible]. Very early in the war Owen Wister said, [illegible] of Calamity," "I want no better photograph [illegible] than his opinion of this war. If he has none, [illegible] graph of him!"

[illegible] who can fail to see the significance of this conflict [illegible] the things of the spirit. Any one who can [illegible] his—or her—dearest, free from the dangers [illegible] of it, is a traitor to his own best self and [illegible] truths upon which all life is built.

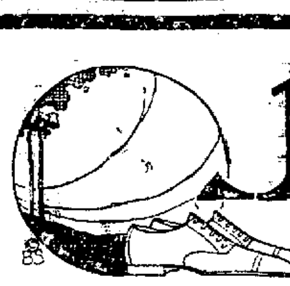

[illegible] high sense this is not a war at all. We instinctively [illegible] of a war as a fair contest between armies for something which to each contestant seems just and right. In most [illegible] has been on one side or another; but even the [illegible] has contested its cause with a certain regard for decency, [illegible] sportsmanlike respect for the enemy, and [illegible] defeat, if defeat must come. At least this is true of [illegible] wars. Even mere ambition has stopped short of [illegible] ends. But the present slaughter has little about [illegible] we have latterly called war. When one man falls upon [illegible] family, to deprive him of his property or his life, without [illegible], we do not call it a fight—we call it murder.

[illegible] conflict is on the one side an unspeakably base aggression [illegible] other a great and brave defense—a defense of [illegible] a defense of all truth and right. One of the Memorial Day preachers said in substance: "We are realizing more and more that this is a war of preservation; the preservation of all that men have fought and died for in the past, and all that will make life worth living in the future. Therefore, if it goes on for generations, we must fight it through."

Yet there was never in all history such carnage and such world-wide agony as the world has been going through in the past four years. And here we come to the direct issue between the body and the soul. In the case of all martyrs that choice has [illegible] made without compromise. And every country that has stood up to the present embodiment of evil and defied it—from [illegible] Belgium to our own country in this, the eleventh [illegible] tremendous, that decisive choice, that only [illegible] make. On the one hand, we have the delusion of [illegible] with hearts clinging to bodily and material safety and [illegible] on the other, we have sacrifice and struggle to the [illegible] spiritual gain beyond our power to measure, and [illegible] of ideals and principles that we recognize as [illegible] goal of our eternal life. It is this recognition [illegible] about such an immense revival of faith in [illegible] reality, through all the horrors of the struggle. [illegible] now, in the atmosphere of great thought and [illegible], what the life of the soul means, that we go [illegible] death of the body, or the loss of the joy of this world [illegible] following of great ideals, we reach the mountain [illegible] spirit. And the hour will come in which we shall [illegible] it was supremely worth while. So shall we [illegible] of another saying of the Master of souls: "When [illegible] these things come to pass then look up, and lift up your [illegible] your redemption draweth nigh."

Why Mrs. Jones Bought An Automatic Washer

Mrs. Jones was sort of an "in between" housewife. In fact, Mr. and Mrs. Jones were soon to celebrate their wooden wedding; and there were two little Jones to assist in the celebration.

Almost anyone would consider Mrs. Jones a good manager They might not have been as enthusiastic about her capabilities as was Mr. Jones (you woud naturally expect him to be preudiced) but you could not deny that Mrs. Jones was a deft little housewife.

There was only one fly in the ointment—only one day in the week when Mrs. Jones had a realization of domestic inefficiency, of struggling with a bigger task than she was able to handle. And that was—yes you've guessed it—the family washing, and wash day itself.

You know, of course, that two little Jones (just the same as two little Browns or two little Smiths) can soil a whole lot of clothes in a week. And Mr. Jones' shirts and socks and Mrs. Jones' things made a considerable pile.

So it was no wonder that Mrs. Jones dreaded the coming of Monday. Lots of times, when the day brought itself to a weary close, Mrs. Jones wished that washing was a lost art.

Really, one couldn't blame Mrs. Jones for her unfriendly attitude toward her old-fashioned wash-board and tub. They undoubtedly did their best, but it was an antiquated, inefficient "best" and left Mrs. Jones tired and fretful.

Finally, Mr. Jones himself started to think about the situation. He wasn't a pronounced believer in woman's suffrage, but he did think that housework should be lightened as much as it could be. So one night at dinner after he toid Mrs. Jones how delicious her pie was, he brought up the subject of buying a power washer to relieve the situation.

At first Mrs. Jones scoffed at the idea of an Automatic Washer really doing what they said it could. Then she thought that it was going to be a big expense to run it or that it would be hard on the clothes. That didn't bother Mr. Jones a little bit. So the next day when he was down town he stopped in at his dealer's store and asked to see the power washers.

The man showed Mr. Jones an Automatic Washer. First of all he told Mr. Jones that the Automatic Washer was made in two distinct types—the Electric Washer and the Power Washer. Then he showed him how the Automate of either type would wash and wring at the same time or do either alone and pointed out how all gearing was readily accessible so that any minor adjustment could be easily made.

Mr. Howard—that was his deaer's name—then expained to Mr. Jones how the rapidly running spur gears on an Automatic were machine cut from blanks—not cast or stamped out.

Then they went over the tub together and Mr. Howard pointed out how every tub was made of carefully selected and inspected kiln-dried cypress—the "wood eternal"— and thicker, wider hoops than ordinary were used and fastened with keepers so they couldn't loosen. Mr. Jones, of course, couldn't help but be impressed with what Mr. Howard told him and he had about made up his mind to buy an Automatic for his wife when Mr. Howard interrupted him and said:

"But, that't only half the story; that's just about the Washer. Now, let me show you the Wringer. See what a large, strong maple frame it has and how the Automatic people use best quality rolls. With just a touch Mrs. Jones can start, reverse or stop the wringer.

"And here's the special safety release which makes it possible to instantly loosen the rolls, throwing off the pressure and letting the rolls separate. Here's another mighty good feature, too, and that's the reversible water board, which keeps the rinse right where it belongs and doesn't give it a chance to flow down to the floor because this extra board or apron is put there to prevent that.

"And here's another Automatic feature that has sold a lot of washers for us. They have provided a large metal bottom outlet with a threaded screw pug so that the tub can be easily drained without tilting it."

As he walked to the door with Mr. Jones, Mr. Howard told him how every Automatic Washer and Wringer was fully guaranteed for five years and that over 50,000 of them had been sold in all parts of the country.

When they reached the door, Mr. Jones told Mr. Howard to send up an Automatic Electric Washer the next Monday and made up his mind then to surprise Mrs. Jones with it.

When Mrs. Jones saw the Automatic standing in the laundry she almost had to rub her eyes to believe that she was awake. And then she was just a wee speck mad at Mr. Jones for sending it up.

Finally Mrs. Jones decided to try it out and see what happened. Afterwards when Mrs. Jones had tried it both Mr. and Mrs. Jones were delighted with it and felt sure the money was well spent. They have had their Automatic over a year now and every Monday it does the washing for the entire family in scarcely any time at all for just a few pennies.

It may be that this story of what an Automatic did for Mrs. Jones points a moral for you. Why don't you call on the Electric Supply Co., store at Philipsburg or Clearfield and investigate the merits of an Automatic your self. We will be glad to point out the different features and show you how the use of an Automatic will save you $100 a year at least.

Why not plan to make this call tomorrow? Read the special announcement on Page 3.

PRICES NEED MORE FIXING

(By United Press)

London, July 15.—The war certainly has been unkind to the poor Maypole Dairy Company, England's biggest dairying concern.

Before the war for three years the Maypole realized an average yearly profit of 190 per cent.

That was prosperity.

But Maypole shadeholders are up against stark, threadbare poverty now, owing to the war. Since 1914 they have averaged a profit of only 112 1-2 per cent.

The profits for 197 were $9,755,000 despite the fact that prices for dairy products are fixed by the government.

WIN THE WAR NOW IS TODAY'S SLOGAN

(By United Press)

Washington, July 15.—Jade carvings, laquered shrines, and carved wood jewel boxes will not help win the war, in the opinion of the American government, but tin cans and garbage will.

In its steady progress toward climination of the great American waste, the government has put the three former items on the restricted imports list. The later items are being looked after by other departments of the government.

Tennis rackets, tennis, golf, base, pingpong and bowling balls; almond flour used in cosmetics; metal vases and similar luxuries also are on a newly issued restricte dimports list.

The department of agriculture announces that if you do not throw away your tin cans, but save them to can the kaiser, you may make some money. If you can gather 7,000 or 8,000 of them, free from rust, you may get $12 for them, according to quotations furnished by a smelter.

So worried has the government become about the sinful waste of beautiful garbage in this country, that the food administration has issued an appeal to the housekeeper, saying:

"One ton of garbage contains:

"Sufficient glycerine for 15 75-millimeter shells:

"Sufficient fatty acid for manufacture of 100 12-ounce cakes of soap; sufficient fertilizer elements to grow 8 bushels of wheat; a score of other materials valuable in munitions making.

"If used as hog feed it will produce:

"One hundred pounds of good, firm, first quality pork.

"Can you afford to destroy these valuable products when your government needs them to help win teh war?

"Put less in your garbage pail and take omre out. But what must go in should be kept separate from other household refuse so it can be used.

"Remember! Garbage is valuable. Keep it clean!"

ANOTHER BRICKYARD FOR BIGLER

Application has been made for a charter for the Fulton Clay Products company. the obect of which is the mining and selling of fireclay, manufacturing and selling the products thereof, including all kinds of fire brick. ground clay and other brick products.

A. B. Hunter, of Irvona, and H. B. Hartswick, of Clearfield, are the charter applicants. Shareholders will include Bigler people, as well as outside capitalists. H. B. Northcroft, of Irvona, is to be superintendent of the new company.

The plant is to be located near the old camp meeting ground, at a point that will afford shipping conveniences oaver both the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads.

The promoters are already advertising for builders and laborers. It is their intention to push construction work to earlycompletion.

WAS SURE ENOUGH GERMAN

A toy balloon liberated in the East End sailed rapidly across the eastern sky last night about 10 o'clock and many local eye witnesses quickly located the aerial visitor as a German airplane. John Lytle is charged with having said he could not only hear the give-away whir of the motor and propellers but even smelled limburger as the darn thing was passing.

A couple of huckleberry pickers are also credited with having seen an airplane sailing across the mountains yesterday morning, but the kind of likker being retailed these days they say is liable to cause a man to see even worse thing than airplanes.

HOG ISLAND MONEY

Those Hog Island shipbuilders are so proud of a dollar bill when they get one for helping turn out a ship for Uncle Same that they put their name and address on it. We received one so marked on subscription Saturday. How it got up here in teh mountains we don't know, but it bore the name of Ed. Flann, Esq., Hog Island, Pa., in good "United States," while it also contained an inscription in Yiddish which w e could not decipher and we were afraid to have interpreted for us.

D. B. McCool, James McCool and son John of Grove City, motored to Clearfield to spend Sudnay with their brother John McCool.

Yes, saw it in The Progress.

OSCEOLA FOREIGNER DIES

Stanley Petroveski, who was shot through the neck by Stephen Fiffick on Sunday, July 7th last, died at the Philipsburg hospital Friday afternoon last. The shooting occurred at a christening in Mulligan Hollow, near Osceola, but just across the line in Centre county. The murderer is in Bellefonte jail.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR, NO DOUBT

Minneapolis, Minn., July 15.—"I married Alfred J. Davis, an Irish Catholic, and now I find him to be Abraham Sogolowitz, a Polish Jew, I don't want him."

This, in substance, is the story told the court by Mary Flaherty, asking annulment of marriage to a Ft. Snelling soldier.

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. William Emory, of Philipsburg, called on relative here yesterday.

Mrs. Mary West and little daughter of Pittsburgh, are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Maxwell, on Thompson street.

Herbert Shearer, employed at the Bickford brick plant, was confined to his home on Meadow street this week by illness.

Messrs. Vern Wall and Ralph Hess both connected with the Crescent Brick Co. of this place, have been transacting business in Pittsburgh the past few days.

John Wilt, one of the day foremen at the Bickford brick plant, accompanied by his family, left on Saturday for Patton and other points in Cambria county, where he will spend the next ten days visiting with relatives and boyhood friends.

The Crescent cornet band went to Faunce yesterday to furnish music for a flag raising. There was a large crowd present and some very patriotic addresses were made on the occasion. Quite a number motored from Curwensvilel and took an active part in enlivening the proceedings.

A young man naced Price, who resides near Bloomington, had one of his hands severely crushed one day the latter part of last week by a fall of clay, the accident happening while he was at work in hard clay mine. About a year ago this same young man had three fingers on the same hand taken off by an accident.

An Italian eployе at the Lumber City brick palnt had a hand severely lacerated Saturday by having it caught in making a car coupling. One finger was almost severed from the hand, but the attending physician did not think that amputation was necessary and fixed the finger up in such a skillful manner that he is of the opinion that the flesh will grow and the hand be as well as ever within the next month, provided no other complications set in.

Ed. Young, one of Lumber City's foremost and progressive citizens, was in Curwensville on Saturday and did som shopping. He does not believe much in going away from one' home town to buy stuff, but as he says sometimes necessity demands it, hence his visit to Curwensville Saturday.

Mrs. Morris Kephart and family of Johnstown, Pa., who have been visiting Mrs. Kephart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hipps, on Filbert street for the past two weeks, have returned to their home. They were accompanied by Miss Lou Hipps and Mrs. Walter McKendrick.

Saturday seventeen of the soldier recruits who left district No. 1 some days ago for Camj Lee, returned to their homes in different parts of the district, some being rejected on the grounds of genral disability, while others were sent home to receive medical and dntal treatment. Chas. Abrino was one from here who was rejected as unfit for military duty.

An interesting and enthusiastic base ball game was played on the home grounds Saturday afternoon. The contesting teams being the Crescent ball team and one from the brick works at Lumber iCty. The up-river lads worked hard and manfully to win, but the fates were against them and they went down in defeat by a score of 12 to 8.

It is not generally known that J. R. Bixler, the versatile editor of the Curwensville Herald, was at one time a politician of some note in this county. From McDonald County Review, of September, 1882, we glean this notice made of him at that time: "Bixler (those we love we call short names) is now Secretar y of the Democratic County Committee." It is further said that Mr. Bixler being honest in his convictions stroked the cat's fur the wrong way, and thereby roused the indignation of some of the party leaders to a high pitch, all because he would not allow them to "shove in their oar" and run things.

The irrepresible Joseph Lines, one of the most expert woodsmen that ever handled a peling axe in a Clearfield county woods, who now resides at or near Lumber City, was a town visitor Saturday. He is now engaged in conducting the boarding house at the Lumber City brick works and also acting as one of the night watchmen at the plant. Joe is an old National Guardsman, having served with the writer as a member of old company A, 5th regiment, then comanded by Col. D. H. Hastings, afterwards serving his state as Governor. If any of Joe's friends wish to see a broad smile overspread his countenance, just ask him if he likes goose. It will fetch a story of a hungry soldier boy and a very "tender" goose.

Thomas Humphrey, one of the highly respected and estimable farmers of Pike township, was in town Saturday and informed ye copy man that he celebrated his 78th birthday the day previous. In regards to health he said that he felt better now than when he came home from the army in 1865, he having served in company K, 142d regiment, more familiarly known as the "Old Bucktails". There was no big display at the anniversary, only that some intimate friends gathered at his home, broke bread with the family, and wished him many happy returns of the day.

There is a congestion of barber shops in Curwensville at present. A fw months ago there were five good shops running, each having from one to three men. Now there are only two shops, with two men to the shop. These, while doing all they can and working more hours than they really ought to, are not sufficient to keep the "whiskers" from gaining a foothold on men who like a clean face As it is at present, one has to wait from two to four hours in a shop before he can have his wants attended to, and as "time is money" to a great many who visit a barber shop two or three times a week, it makes it inconvenient.

The funeral of Robert J. Shaffer was held from his late residence yesterday afternoon. A large number of fellow workmen from the brick yard were inattendance, to pay their last tribute to their friend and fellow worker. The services at the cemetery were under the auspices of the local Red Men's Lodge, of which he had been a membre for a numbr of years. Deceased, despite his many peculiarities, had many friends in this place, and who wre more than sorry of his early demise. "Happy" Shaffer, as he was called by nearly everybody here who knew him, will long be remembered by those who knew him best, as genial, compania and fellow worker. It was very seldom that he ever refused to do a favor, and many times he helped a friend out of a hole, much to the detriment of his own advancement and interest.

It has been clearly demonstrated that for several Sundays past Curwensville should have a policeman to serve on that day and from morning until night. True Burgess Traister has had notices poste dall over town warning automobile drivers against driving faster than a certain speed within the limits, but as the car men know that there is no officer on duty on Sunday they do not even give the warning notices a single glance. They also are aware that Chief Clark is on duty only a part of teh day, and consider there is no danger of arrest from morn until after dinner time at least. A few surprise arrests at the hands of a special officer might have a tendency, for a while at least, of putting stop to speeding over our streets Sunday mornings.

OSCEOLA MILLS

William Pooley of Center transacted business in town on Friday evening.

Our Boy Scouts under the leadership of their master, Rev. Gordon A. Williams are making fine progress.

William B. Hamilton of Pittsburgh, who was an Osceola boy visited with friends here and at Houtzdale last week.

Thomas Butler of New York, a former resident of this place visited with friends here last week returning to the city on Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Blowers and family of St. Petersburg, Florida are guests at the home of Eli A. Hall having arrived on Friday evening by automobile. They left home July 5th.

Mrs. Harry Brown and daughters left on Thursday for Harrisburg where they will visit Mrs. Brown's mother.

Charles Fullington has purchased the property of S. W. McLarren on Blanchard street, formerly occupied by Harry Brown and has moved into it.

Miss Miriam Brown of Harrisburg who had been visiting Miss Margaret Lewis at the Presbyterian parsonage and left for Silver Lake N. Y., where she will conduct the Junior League cass at the Epworth League conference to be held at that resort.

The Y. P. B.'s held a package party at the home of Robert Mattern in Frenchtown on Thursday evening and all had a fine time and realized a snug sum for their treasury.

YANK HEADWORK IS BACKED BY NERVE

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 21. (By Mail.)—Turning "Heinie's" own machine guns back on him is the newest and favorite stunt in a certain American outfit.

The boys just stumbled onto this sport, and they like it.

Recently in raids the boys brought back some German machine guns, after driving the Germans away from their own strongholds.

"Why not use these German guns on the Heinies?" one thinking doughboy asked his pals.

"You're crazy; we haven't any ammunition that'll fit them."

"Why can't we go over and get some?" replied the thinker.

"Never thought of that," replied the others, "we'reoon."

That night they raided the German trenches and brought back plenty of ammunition and another German machine gun. Next day the guns were playing on the "Heinies".

"They're darned good machine guns," said one chap enthusiastically, "but the Heinies don't know how to use them. We do, though. We're getting a little low on ammunition. Guess we'll have to run over to Germany tonight and make 'em hand out some more."

PLEASE PASS THE TANGELO

(By United Press)

Washington, July 15.—Science has added another delectable fruit to man's larder. It's to be known as the tangelo; and is a cross between the Tangerine orange and the gape-fruit or pomelo.

The . S. bureau of plant industry, which evolved the hybrid fruit, says of it; "It has little acidity, and resembles a tender and good-flavored orange more than either a grape-fruit or a tangerine.

YANK HEADWORK IS BACKED BY NERVE

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 21. (By Mail.)—Turning "Heinie's" own machine guns back on him is the newest and favorite stunt in a certain American outfit.

The boys just stumbled onto this sport, and they like it.

Recently in raids the boys brought back some German machine guns, after driving the Germans away from their own strongholds.

"Why not use these German guns on the Heinies?" one thinking doughboy asked his pals.

"You're crazy; we haven't any ammunition that'll fit them."

"Why can't we go over and get some?" replied the thinker.

"Never thought of that," replied the others, "we'reoon."

That night they raided the German trenches and brought back plenty of ammunition and another German machine gun. Next day the guns were playing on the "Heinies".

"They're darned good machine guns," said one chap enthusiastically, "but the Heinies don't know how to use them. We do, though. We're getting a little low on ammunition. Guess we'll have to run over to Germany tonight and make 'em hand out some more."

The Spokane clubs are making elaborate plans for the entertainment of the annual Inland Empire golf championship tournament to be held in their city in September.

PLEASE PASS THE TANGELO

(By United Press)

Washington, July 15.—Science has added another delectable fruit to man's larder. It's to be known as the tangelo; and is a cross between the Tangerine orange and the gape-fruit or pomelo.

The . S. bureau of plant industry, which evolved the hybrid fruit, says of it; "It has little acidity, and resembles a tender and good-flavored orange more than either a grape-fruit or a tangerine.

SOMETHING GOOD TO EAT.
Scouts Are Taught to Cook—They Know How to Do It Right.

JOYS OF REAL SCOUT LIFE.

Rolling dough on a rock with a glass jar is not fiction nor fancy for scouts, but a reality. Bread-twist on a stick and a hunter's stew will soon be sending up appetizing odors in scout camps all over the country to annoy the appetite. Even should a bit of bark or a grain of sand get into the dough it will only help digest the food. This is clean dirt.

This summer the scouts in the cities expect to take a hike at least every Saturday. They will learn to cook, make the proper kind of fire for every purpose, swim, make a bed of boughs, track birds and "beasts," learn the trees and birds and flowers, and learn the message of the stars and the great out-of doors which is God's first and best temple

Only scouts know the charm of sleeping out among the "zephyrs" all night and getting up in the dew next morning to cook a breakfast before hiking home.

BOY SCOUT SAVES A LEG.

Remembering his "first aid" training as a boy scout James Purdy, thirteen years old, of Darby, Pa., perhaps saved a limb for Carl Wittick, twelve years old, when the latter, coasting at a speed of 25 miles an hour, was struck by another sled, which fractured his leg above the ankle in two places.

When other boys saw the fragments of bone protruding from the injured lad's leg they ran away, but Purdy, making the boy comfortable, gently placed him on a sled and then drew him three quarters of a mile to a doctor's office.

SCOUTS CLEAR UP OLD SIGNS.

The National Highways Protective society says that space along highways given for Liberty loan recruiting and War Savings stamp posters has been taken by other advertising illegal to display in such locations.

In several instances troops of scouts have been utilized in clean-up campaigns for their removal. The Highways society asks that scout officials co-operate in this campaign.

SCOUT TROOP IN SHIP PLANT.

A troop of scouts has been organized among the messengers at the office of the American International Shipbuilding corporation at Camden, N. J.

The company will not employ a boy unless he is a registered scout and wears his uniform while at work Their efficiency and prompt response to all calls have won praise for the boy scout movement.

Audacity is stepfather of success.

Taking all classes of British women war workers, the total is said to be considerably in excess of 5,000,000.

WORK OR FIGHT IS HITTING BASEBALL

By H. C. Hamilton
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 13.—The work or fight order seems certain to hit major league baseball. And if it does, baseball aparently would be flying in the face of fate if it continued.

That local boards are interpreting Provost Marshal General Crowder's order as applying to professional baseball is demonstrated by the recent abdication of Player Parnham of the Baltimore club of the new International league. He was ordered by his local board to seek a new occupation, and he proceeded to comply at once.

Two men already have left the Brooklyn National league club as direct result of order. Both Zach Wheat and Hi Myers own farms. Myers already has gone to his, while Wheat expects to go within a few days.

Minor leagues probably will be hit first and hardest, for most of their men are younger. But there is no inclination in baseball to sacrifice the little fellows for the bigges ones.

It would be possible to gather enough men under and over ages included in the order to make a showing, but such an aggregation would suply such a joke combination of baseball that the public would become disgusted and stay away. A leaning to this plan is already apparent on the part of several big league magnates. Tommy Leach, for instance, has been taken back into the big league fold, and is playing as a regular with Pittsburg Joe Tinneran has been adopted by the Yankees, as has Hum Hyatt.

In Boston the entire outheld of the Boston Braves, consisting of Kelly, Powell and Rehg, an excellent combination, has enlisted in the navy

DOUGHBOYS LOVE HOT CHOCOLATE SOLDIERS

By Frank J. Taylor
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

With The American Army In France, June 19. (By Mail.)—It gets mighty chilly along toward morning in the trenches, and a fellow needs something hot to cheer him up and keep him awake.

So figured Charles Sinkler of Philadelphia and Harry G Underwood of New York, who run a canteen for the Red Cross in a village two kilometers from the lines, a place the Germans delight in shelling, even though it's but a mass of ruins now.

One of these men couldn't get into the army because he was too old, so he gave up his law practice to come over and help the boys. The other had to do something, and this was the only job he could land, near the front.

Every night these two men make up gallons of hot chocolate, and at midnight they wend their way out dark roads through muddy trenches, and give the doughboys on duty hot chocolate.

One point which they serve is where French lines join with American. Here you see Frenchmen and Americans waiting eagerly for their chocolate, officers with the men, each holding his cup. You see it if you can see in darkness, for this is the very front, the farthest out that any workers go to help the boys.

"Those fellows ought to be decorated," said one appreciative doughboy. "You don't mind coming out here with a gun when you can shoot But you couldn't dodge a shell if you had to, carrying those big buckets of chocolate."

With the arrival of "Pop" Goers at the Randall track, the stage was set for the Grand Circuit to inaugurate its season in regulation style.

Speedway races at Providence and at Sheepshead bay will divide the attention of the automobile enthusiasts in the Eastern States during August.

The brilliant fielding of Roy Chapman has been a considerable factor in the battle of the Cleveland Indians to get over the top this season.
